Dear Parents / Carers,

Some of you may have seen Stormont House make a brief appearance in a Sky News article last weekend. The main focus is on how hard it is for some parents to find provision to meet their child's needs, but there is a short interview here and some shots of working in the art room. Some of the students have been asking me about it and I thought you might like to see it. If you're interested, here are the links to the Sky News item (YouTube) and the Website article

All the best for half term,
Kevin McDonnell
Headteacher
